

WE NOMINATE

Donald Worner Griffin, one of the Princeton community's best-known citizens, who over the past quarter-century has probably done more than any other living Princetonian to promote and strengthen "Princeton contacts" with all parts of these United States. Word came this week, as several thousand University alumni started converging upon Nassau Street from the several points of the compass, that the 60-year old Griffin, for 26 years Secretary of the Princeton Alumni Council, has been nominated to the newly created post of General Secretary of the National Alumni Association, an organization numbering well over 31,000 members and including subsidiary units in such distant points as Tokyo, Singapore, Paris and London.

Announcement of Griffin's nomination by Walker W. Stevenson, Jr., Alumni Council Chairman, represents recognition of pioneering efforts in the broad field of alumni affairs, an area of ever-mounting importance in the development of American higher education. Reunions, featuring gaily costumed classes, blaring bands and all-night bull sessions, constitute only one manifestation of a comprehensive program that touches upon all facets of a university's operations, from advisory councils working with the departments of study to intercollegiate athletics. It is the kind of challenging, widely varying work Griffin has relished since he established his home here in 1935.

Griffin, who in an age dominated by "organization men" is being freed from the administrative details to work outside and beyond organizations, has combined his manifold university duties with lifelong concern for the nation's military establishment. The perennial and enthusiastic director of Princeton Town's observance of Memorial and Armed Forces Days, this native of Lock Haven, Pa., in the fall of 1959 completed 35 years of active and reserve military service. During World War II he had been a charter member of the Air Transport Command and, in the closing stages of the conflict, was Chief of the Hospital Liaison Division of the Army Air Forces.

Prior to succeeding Thurston J. Davies, subsequently president of Colorado College, as the lone salaried executive officer of the Princeton Alumni Association, Griffin had been associated with milling enterprises in Pennsylvania and Mississippi as well as with a Philadelphia investment banking house. In the middle-1920's, two years after he had completed his undergraduate studies with the class of 1923, he returned to the campus briefly to concentrate on one of his lifelong athletic interests—football. Today, three decades after the fact, he enjoys recalling the coaching partnership he established with the late Charlie Caldwell, then "breaking in" as a freshman coach.

Griffin, a Culver Academy Black Horse Trooper in his teens, a cavalry officer in the Pennsylvania National Guard in the 1920's and 1930's, and still an inveterate horseman, is undoubtedly the only University of Pennsylvania football captain ever to have won high honors at Princeton. In the fall of 1919 he captained an undefeated freshman eleven at Pennsylvania and the following year transferred to Princeton, where he combined playing on the still-remembered, undefeated 1922 "Team of Destiny" with a prominent role on the Senior Class Council and the presidency of his upperclass eating club.

For his rare devotion to the remarkable entity known as "Town and Gown"; for his contributions in a sphere of educational administration which demands initiative, imagination and a willingness to serve others; for advancing new concepts of a modern-day phenomenon—Princeton's Annual Reunion Weekend; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

This Is PRINCETON

"YES" ON BLIGHT
Board Decides. The Borough
Planning Board voted on Tuesday night that the Witherspoon - John - Hulfish - Jackson-Green area is blighted, as blight is defined in the statutes. The vote was 4-3 with one abstention and one absentee.

Voting "yes" on blight were Martin Beck, chairman of the Board, Mayor Raymond P.
Wale, Edward Hofgesand and Arthur Brokaw. "No" votes were cast by Dr. Charles R.
Edman, Webster S. Dodge and Bryan Moore. Albert Austin abstained and Dr. John P. Sly was absent to avoid a conflict of interest. Mr. Sly is on the Princeton University faculty and the University has a controlling interest in Palmer Square, Inc., formerly Princeton Municipal Improvement, owners of property in the disputed area.

Because of an ambiguity in the Planning Board's by-laws, a further examination of the actual vote is necessary, according to William Miller, Planning Board counsel. The by-laws state that "a majority of the membership of the Board (five members) shall constitute a quorum, and the number of votes necessary to transact business shall be a majority of the entire membership of the Board."
Mr. Miller has stated that he expects to present to Mr. Beck his opinion on the vote in approximately a week.

"THIS IS PRINCETON"
Jaycees Release Survey.
Princeton is a good town to live in and 88 per cent of the people who live here think so.

This euphoric state of affairs came to light Tuesday night when the Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce unvelled at Princeton High School the results of its Princeton Community Study.
Between October, 1960, and February, 1961, Jaycees interviewed 255 Princeton residents 1338 Township, 117 Borough chosen by scientific sample from the voting lists. Opinion Research Corporation selected the sample. Jaycees did the person-to-person interviewing.
ORC processed the results and John Lesley, chairman of the Jaycees committee, made the presentation to Tuesday's audience.

Who Lives Here? Princeton is usually considered a home-owners town, but only 49 per cent of Township residents and 69 per cent of Borough residents own their own homes. It is also considered a well-educated town and it is:
43 per cent of Township and 58 per cent of Borough residents are college graduates and nine per cent have the PhD degree. The national B.A. average is only 8%.

Politically, neither party has a majority in Princeton as a whole, and about one resident

Democratic, 34% Republican and 20% independent. In the Borough, 28% are Democratic, 35% Republican and 19% in-

The 88% who say "we like it here" rate Princeton very high in 35 communities studied by ORC, only Portland, Oregon, with 89% tops Princeton.
Asked why they like Princeton, most people (42%) mentioned the small-town atmosphere. "The people" were mentioned by 27% as a favorable aspect of Princeton life and "the scholarly, intellectual atmosphere" by 25%.

The beauty of the town was given by 75% as the most important quality about Princeton. Convenience to large cities attractive living conditions, pleasant residential atmosphere, all received percentages in the 60's.
"Steady work" and "business is good" were mentioned by 32% and 24% respectively, and the Jaycees cite relatively high figures as showing Princeton's recession relationship to the rest of the country.

like about Princeton. Traffic congestion, high taxes and unfriendly, snobbish people also were mentioned. Five per cent said, "the weather".

The treatment of minority groups topped the list of attributes that are "not appealing". Going down this list, the lack of neighborliness, lack of attractive employment conditions and steady work were also referred to as "not appealing". However, the highest "not appealing" rating given to minority treatment was only 13%, which indicates all facilities than Township (11%) and more Township residents are bothered by the condition of roads and streets (16%) than Borough residents (9%).

How do Princetonians stand on local issues? Sixty-four per cent of all residents think the Borough and Township should consolidate, 21% do not and 15% have no opinion. The feeling is stronger in the Township where 75% are in favor, 11% against and 14% without opinion, than in the Borough where the figures are 55% in favor, 28% against and 17% with no opinion.

In the Borough, 63% favor more multiple housing and 28% are opposed. In the Township, 49% would like to see ap-partments, but 41% say "no".
Princeton as a whole, would not like to encourage light industry: 52% say "no" and 42% say "yes" with the figures almost exactly the same for Borough and Township. On the other hand, 65% would like to encourage more research and only 24% say "no".

the Jaycees, that the appealing features of the town impress people more strongly than the unappealing ones.

Problems? Of those questioned, 35% regard traffic as the most pressing problem, and 22% cite parking. More Borough residents (20%) are disturbed by lack of recreation. Princeton should provide more areas where Negroes can obtain integrated housing. Twenty-five per cent. oppose this view, and 34% express no opinion. (No question was asked on when repairs because the matter was not a pressing issue at the time the survey was made.)

On other issues, 72% favor public library, but the majority (53%) oppose using tax money for a public swimming pool, and most (53%) also oppose any zoning change which would mean smaller lots (47% in Borough, 60% not in Township). And 47% of the people do not approve of proposing to erect a new municipal building in either municipality.

How Do They Rate? Four Princeton institutions received top mention for "excellence" in their community responsibilities. The Township School system with 51% was first, Princeton University and volunteer fire companies tied with 50% and the Borough school system next with 46%.

The YM-YWCA, received 37%, Princeton Hospital 36%, the police department 29% and the Princeton Water Company 27%.

Both Borough and Township governing bodies received "good" ratings of 44% (Borough) and 41% (Township) with 24% of the Borough and 31% of the Township expressing "no opinion" about the merits of the governing bodies.

On the "fair-point" scale, the public library, the post office and Princeton Hospital were at the top with 20%, 18% and 17% respectively. Borough and Township engineers, Princeton businessmen and Borough

Person To Person
FOR FATHER'S DAY

We heard a fire chief impressing upon his audience that it is what you do in the first minute of the beginning of a fire that counts. He said, "In fire fighting, you win or lose in the first few minutes."

That's why everyone must make way for the fire department when you hear them coming down the street. The minute they save in getting to a fire quickly may save human lives and property.

But in trying to think of other circumstances wherein haste does not make waste, we were hard put to come up with any idea. If you will try to think of any other activity in our daily living where urgent hurrying will do more good than harm, you'll know what we mean.

That is why we never try to rush you into a fast decision on the car you buy, nor will we allow a hasty job to be done in our shop.

After all, your top satisfaction is our goal, and that can be achieved only from hurried thinking or working.

Council also rated 17% and Township Committee, 16%.

Mr. Lasley pointed out in his presentation that the high 72% support for a larger public library indicated that the library's high 20% "fair-point" referred to the need for a new physical plant, rather than to inefficiency in operating the present library.

Asked to name leading citizens who have taken an active part in helping to improve Princeton, the respondents listed over 200 persons. Mayor Raymond P. Vale of the Borough and Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman of the Township were cited most often.

PERSONALITIES
W. H. ("Buster") Lewis, 30 Nassau Street, who on Tuesday will watch his 52nd consecutive Princeton University commencement. Honorary member of the class of 1912. Mr. Lewis came to Princeton in 1905 and was associated with Renwick's from its founding in 1907. Former manager and host at the Nassau Inn. Mr. Lewis expects to be shaking hands with everybody "come next Tuesday."

Mrs. Elsie M. Clark, 62 Hartsley Avenue, who is celebrating after 29 years with the Borough schools, 14 of them as supervising principal. Members of the cafeteria staff, the administrative staff and personal friends attended a dinner in her honor at the Princeton Inn.

POOR PRINCETON!
New Architecture Decried. A protest group called the Poor Princeton Society has mailed letters to 5,000 of Princeton's 80,000 alumni, including many in the Princeton area, urging the University's architectural policies and charging that Princeton has "failed to recognize vastly changing architectural conditions and has refused to develop strong convictions for its new buildings."

The letter suggests to alumni and faculty that the university has "amputated architecture from the body of its moral concern" and states the writers' opinions that a school must shift to find new balance between the old and the new, "with the exuberance of a freshman and the confidence of a scholar."

Quoting from "The Architecture of America—A Social and Cultural History" by Dean John Burchard and Albert Bush-Brown of M.I.T., the letter goes on to describe "weak boxes studded with mean windows, flimsy joints, overbearing cornices and dull rhythms. Gothic was gone, but its replacement, a weak set of reminiscent compromises, was worse, however much it tried to be all things to all men."

The controversy centers on the new dormitory quadrangle, the engineering quadrangle now under construction, and plans for other buildings. Members of the Poor Princeton Society protest that new campus structures represent a characterless compromise between Gothic, Renaissance and modernism.

"In 1960, Seashore was to do the new colleges at Yale. Harvard had commissioned LeCorbusier... Pei and Stubbins were designing for M.I.T. But the pockets of resistance remained, particularly at distinguished Old Nassau where the trustees resolutely covered their ears and their eyes that they might hear and see no evil." The quotation is another from the Burchard - Bush-Brown publication.

The Society says that when its members approached the University to ask about architectural policies, they were told that Princeton could not "experiment with the money people give her." They ask, "Do we give our money to Princeton that she should hide it and make it absolutely safe, or do we give our money that she should use it to multiply the rewards for student and teacher by trading in the challenges of today?"

The letter is signed by 18 alumni. The address of the Poor Princeton Society is Box 257, Ansonia Station, 1990 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

TOPICS Of the Town

PRADE ROUTE SHIFTED
New Trail for Old Tigers. Princeton University will undertake an ambitious program of re-education this weekend as it seeks to teach its alumni to use a new route for their annual Prade. Instead of stopping at University Field as in the past, this year's Prade will continue down Prospect Avenue and along FitzRandolph Road to the new baseball field east of Palmer Stadium.

The Prade, colorful climax to the University's annual reunion weekend, has traditionally turned off Prospect at the main entrance to University Field to troop past the President of the University and then watch the Princeton-Yale baseball game. Immediately following last year's game, however, construction crews began to rip up University Field to make way for the new engineering quadrangle.

Now the costumed alumni will march a good half-mile farther under a hot June sun. Not only will they have farther to go, but when they reach the new field they will find considerably fewer seats — 2500 as against 8000 at University Field.

Outside of the new route, there are no startling changes in the format of the Prade. The Class of 1936, the 25-year class, will lead away from Nassau Hall at 1:30 and, as usual, floats will join the march as it emerges from the campus at Washington Road and Prospect Avenue.

Upon reaching the baseball field, the Praders will file past President Robert F. Goheen in the reviewing stand and then occupy their seats or standing room. The alumni will then sing Old Nassau (one verse) and settle down to watching the Princeton nine try to down Yale after stalling its two earlier contests — with the Ellis.

THIRD HEARING SET
For Sacred Heart. Following the second three-and-one-half hour hearing Thursday night on the request of the Religious of the Sacred Heart for a permit to build a school for girls on The Great Road, Township Zoning Board announced that a third hearing on the controversial question will be held next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Township Hall.

Attorneys Albridge C. Smith, III, for the school and Hugh D. Wise, Jr., for Lady Catherine M. Monck, owner of the property, presented witnesses with the intent to show that the Township had planned a Great Road sewer before the school made its wishes known; that the school would not be a burden to Township taxpayers; that traffic generated by the school would not be excessive and that the overall plan of the campus would not mar the countryside.

The witnesses were Joseph R. Nini, Township administrator; William Miller, tax specialist; T. Ledyard Blakeman, community planner and Jean Labatut, architect who has been working on Sacred Heart plans.

Mr. Nini pointed out that a Great Road sewer extension was given top priority last November. In rebuttal, Seymour Montgomery, representing area residents opposed to the sewer, elicited a letter from Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman to Borough Mayor Raymond F. Male expressing concern about overloaded sewers.

Mr. Miller said that, if 25 homes "like Brookstone" were built on the land instead of the school, the Township would probably collect $35,000 a year in taxes, and would probably spend $20,150 in municipal services and school costs, based on a figure of $226 per dwelling for municipal services and an average of $580 per year per school child for 8-11 child per home. He estimated that the 46-15 taxable Sacred Heart acres would yield about $1,000 in yearly taxes.

Mr. Blakeman said that, until the Township's total road plan went into effect, there would be an overload on the existing system, but that development should not be held up on this account. He said that in his opinion, 300 cars could easily be accommodated on the Great Road at the peak 8-9 a.m. hour and that school traffic, in itself, should not cause trouble. In response to a question from Mr. Montgomery, he said that traffic for the new school, plus the new Princeton Day Schools traffic, would present a problem if The Great Road remained as it is.

Mrs. Edward L. Howe, The Great Road, read a letter stating that although she was not a Catholic, she approved the establishment of the new school.

Mr. Smith presented statements from parents who expressed interest in enrolling their children in the school: 26 from the Borough, 83 from the Township, 23 from Trenton three from West Windsor, four from South Brunswick, 11 from Hopewell, seven from Montgomery Township, three from Cranbury.

BOROUGH SEEKS TWO LOTS

For Parking Areas, Street Borough Council approved the acquisition of two lots on Witherspoon Street at a special meeting Monday night. Both will be used for parking, but one will also provide space for moving Jackson Street north to complete an alternate route through Princeton.

Although the lot now occupied by the former Lamp Lighter Restaurant involved $110,000, by far the larger sum of money, it was the lot at the corner of Jackson and Witherspoon which aroused controversy. The Borough has been unable to negotiate the purchase of this property and now plans to condemn it.

Mayor Supports Action

After the hearing, Council passed the ordinance condemning the property and offering $250,000 as a purchase price by a vote of 6-0 with one abstention. Although the Assistant Borough Attorney, Peter T. Bassin, stated that because the relocation of Jackson Street and urban renewal were separate issues there would be no conflict of interest, Councilman Dan D. Coyle, a University administrative member, obtained "just in case" Attorney E. Sorenson, also associated with the University, supported the ordinance.

While the Borough has now officially approved the condemnation, the owners still have a case pending before the State Superior Court as to whether the Borough can deny them a building permit for the property. Mr. Gluckman, who is also representing the owners before the court, will request a summary judgment on Friday.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Van Dyke? Van Dyck? Township Committee passed on Monday night the ordinance to complete part of Terhune Road after amending the ordinance in such a manner that the new street will be known as "Terhune" from the present end of its paving (at Randall Road) to the Trinity Church property line, and as "Van Dyke" from that line to Shovelens Lane. The amendment followed a discussion of the proper spelling of Van Dyke-Van Dyck, and protests from residents of the road who were afraid it was going to be called "Terhune" all the way to Snodden.

The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad asked Committee for an amendment to the zoning ordinance which would allow such facilities as firehouses and rescue squad headquarters in the Township. The Squad said it owns property on the corner of Harrison and Clearview but is unable to build because there is no zoning in the present ordinance which applies to their organization. The problem was taken under advisement and will probably be submitted by Committee to the planning Board for consideration.

News Of The THEATRES

TRIANGLE REVIVAL.
This Weekend at McCarter.
The 1960-61 Triangle Club production, "A Midsummer Night Scream," will be staged in McCarter Theatre this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Well received last winter in princeton and on its annual tour, the musical comedy re-tells the efforts of Queen Elizabeth to write a variety of plays using a country bumpkin named William Shakespear as her fool. The full orchestra and original cast will be featured in the two revivals, which coincide with alumni reunions at the University.
Tickets, scaled from $2.50 to $3.50, are on sale at the University Store. They may be bought at the box office on the evening of the performance.

THE PLAYHOUSE

On the Double (June 7 - 13) is, for all intents and purposes, a one-man show. Danny Kaye, forsaking his recent semi-serious roles for a return to low, high and middle comedy, is supercasual as an American GI who joins the Allied cause toward the end of World War II by impersonating a British officer so the officer can go off on a secret mission.

The complications, predictably, include a spy plot and embarrassing situations with the officer's wife (Dana Wynter) and mistress (Diana Dore). Kaye throws food, does a female impersonation and sings. Always he is engaging—so much so that one is frequently lulled into forgetting that this is nothing but a vaudeville show masquerading as a movie. Miss Dore understands from time to time with her usual verve and enthusiasm.

drama about juvenile delinquels of the crimes of an-ciency against its youth. Adapted from Evan Hunter's novel, "A Matter of Conviction," the film stars Burt Lancaster, Di-na Merrill and Shelley Winters.

Lancaster is an assistant district attorney determined to track down the culprits in a Harlem gang killing. In the process, he meets a lot of young hoods, is beaten by a few of them, and argues with his wife over the merits of capital punishment.

The film is well-acted, and it generates a certain amount of repulsive excitement and guilt-paths. But the problem with which it deals is too immediate and vital to be passed off with this kind of "Mr. District Attorney" treatment, no matter how capably performed.

French with English subtitles, it stars Gerard Philippe, who

DISTINGUISHED PRINCETON POOL

one of a series

Just one of the numerous swimming pools in the Princeton area installed by nationally-recognized Sylvan Pools, Inc. This is but one of 50 custom shapes and sizes. Sylvan Pools was recently awarded the Gold Medal for design excellence so that, as for 14 years, Sylvan Pools are the most proved, most popular, most reliable swimming pools available. You may be surprised to learn that a hand-crafted, steel-reinforced Sylvan Pool costs no more than pools of far lesser quality. Priced from $2880 to $6980, low bank rates require as little as $50 per month. Where quality and pride of ownership are considerations, a Sylvan Pool is your best buy. For information in the Princeton area . . . Ask a family that owns a Sylvan Pool. Otherwise, you may call Princeton, WA 4-2040, or drop a note to SYLVAN POOLS, 201 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey. (Advertisement)

TEAK FROM THE NORTH
 At Viking Furniture. Oiled teak and walnut finishes from Scandinavian craftsmen will probably never go out of date, so that when you buy some of the new pieces at Viking Furniture on Route 33, Hamilton Square, you can be sure you are making a lifetime investment.

The shop is particularly proud of two new mix-and-match lines. One provides you with bookcases or shelves that have a solid harking of teak, in contrast to the open-back effect of most modular collections. Wooden shelves are supported at each end by rounded triangles of wood.

The second collection starts out from a single bed headboard and frame with wooden slats to support your mattress and springs. The headboard, padding with a matte black fabric, tilts out and away from a concealed storage space behind, so that you can get comfortably in bed and store your winter coats at the same time. Various chests, slanting magazine racks, compact little wall clocks (or bare—depending on whether you prefer stamps to ice-cubes) and sliding-door cupboards go along with the bed.

Domestic, but in the Scandinavian manner, is a round walnut dining table supported by slim pedestal and four graceful feet. For more ambitious and sliding-door cupboards go along with the bed.

On the accessory side, Viking has some unusual little stools for cushions for a couch. Small and light and soft, they are covered with sheer wool in various imaginative color combinations.

One is a round pillow in two shades of grey. Another combines deep royal purple and an even deeper green. There's a lovely solid golden yellow, too, all in the finest, softest basketweave wool.

For candlelight dining, try the new drop cups, so called because they are shaped like inverted drops. We thought they looked like big Christmas-tree bulbs. Colors are infinite—want a purple candle, or a black one? Right here.

Ombra shades of greens and blues, yellows and greys, reds and yellows have been subtly blended to make accent rug of clipped wool pile, soft to bare foot. You may choose from about a dozen different ombra shades, and you may have any size you like.

Another collection of rugs will appeal more to decorators who like the provincial, countrified style. These are all wool braided "rag" rugs, in rich shades of royal blue or deep turquoise, or any one of many others. Each of these rugs is fringed at the ends, and woven in a single color—not in the conventional multi-color of most braided rugs.

Viking provides for its customers not only furniture rugs and painted candles, but a complete decorating service which includes trips into New York with the client to various show-rooms which are usually off-limits to the retail consumer who is on her own. The shop will also decorate a whole house for you on the slimmest of budgets, or on a budget which is no budget at all.

WHERE'S MY BOOK?
 At Book Mart. Some time ago, the Princeton Book Mart on Palmer Square decided to arrange a window display of Books by Princetonians. "I'll never do it again," says Mr. Shadovitz, with feeling.

To begin with, the window display space was too small to accommodate the volume-of volumes, if you prefer. Mr. S. kept finding another, and still another and as soon as he thought he had everything, a new one would pop off the presses. And then people would come into the shop and say, "Where's the history of the Scanlon Water Company that I wrote in 1917?" or "My great-uncle lived here from 1910 to 1928, and none of his works is in your window."

And so it went. Today, if you want a book by a Princetonian, you go inside and ask for it.

For that

Pictureque Mats
 The Danish place mats and table cloths at Viking Furniture will bring color and color to any terrace, or even to a dinette—and many of the designs, cheerful and refreshing to the eye on a warm evening, are quite suitable for use inside when the menu says soup instead of salad.

Printed obolons of deep purple and navy blue, irregular in length and width, have been fitted together to make a striking pattern that is especially effective with white tableware. One chipper design racks up rows of white spoons against line and character. Green olives and—are they eggs?—present a picnic feast on a third cloth. These are all linen pieces, by the way.

Viking Furniture is in Hamilton Square, which you may reach by driving out Quaker Bridge Road, across Route One to Mercerville, and then north on Route 33 for about a mile. Pleasant drive for a summer afternoon.

Right now, you'll probably want, if you haven't got them already, David Donald's Pulitzer Prize—winner, "Charles Sumner and the Coming of the Civil War," and Herbert Feis' Pulitzer prize, "Between War and Peace—the Potsdam Conference." You may also buy Mr. Feis' "Japan Subdued," the last of a series of five books on the diplomacy of World War II.

Circle No. 279

REBELS-FOR-TRACTORS DEBATED: Morris Milgram (left) and Robert Holland would agree with others that Castro's offer to exchange Cuban rebels for tractors has worked out to Castro's disadvantage and not the United States. For more on the morality and the political wisdom of the proposed exchange, see below. (Staff Photo.)

Question of the Week

Question: Do you feel that the proposed exchange of tractors for Cuban rebels is morally sound and politically wise or is it heading to blackmail?

Who asked: Palmer Square.

Shelley C. Kurzias, 417-C Devereaux Avenue, graduate student, chemical engineering: I think it is sound. I'm sure the United States was directly involved in the invasion attempt and, inasmuch, as we encouraged the rebels to make the invasion in the first place, I think we are morally obligated to do whatever we can to liberate them.

Mrs. R. Stuyvesant Pierpont, 1 Hasket Avenue, homemaker: I think it's absolutely necessary—lives against machinery—but blackmail, nevertheless. I think we should have never gotten into the mess we are in in the first place.

Edmond Skilman, research department, ETS: Yes, it's blackmail but if private citizens want to do it that's up to them. It shows the point of view of the Cuban government and their lack of respect for human lives. I feel the Latin-American opinion of the Cuban government will deteriorate. However, I think Kennedy was very definitely ill-considered in any personal connection he may have had with the whole affair.

George Gump, Jr., Mountain View Road, in charge of questionnaire development for Gallup Poll: Actually, I think it is the only thing we can do. I think what Ed Murrow, director of the United States Information Agency said is true: that it is a good example for the countries of Latin America and it is making the people there become more disgusted with and repugnant of Castro. Also, I think, we've always stood for the humanitarian approach and this, to me, is the only consistent thing to do with our whole approach of putting lives over machines.

Morris Milgram, 24 Nassau Street, president of Modern Development: It's my belief that a humanitarian issue is involved and, much as we are concerned with opposing totalitarianism, we've got to save the lives of these anti-Castro fighters. I think Mrs. Roosevelt and the others are to be commended for their efforts.

Robert Holland, 48 Cuyler Road, insurance specialist: You never accuse the person being blackmailed of doing anything wrong. The blackmailer, in this case, Castro—is the one who is immoral. Under these circumstances, we are not bowing to blackmail, we are ransoming people who don't lose a battle but not the war.

Mrs. Robert Heilig, Great Road, personnel department, Princeton University: I don't think it's blackmail. I think it helps show Castro up for what he is and it will release those prisoners, which, after all, is the most important thing.

Louis Jernow, Blackwell Avenue, Levensville, salesman: I think it's blackmail. I agree it leaves an opening for all dictators to blackmail us for machinery and supplies.

Mrs. Holmes Holma, 258 North Harrison, housewife: I think it's probably worth it. Certainly a man is worth a tractor.

John Thompson, 29 Demsey Avenue, professor at theological seminary, Cairo, Egypt: My own thought is that it is bowing to blackmail. I don't begrudge the Cubans some tractors, but I don't like to see them exchanged for the freedom of human beings.

Mrs. Joseph A. Baker, Cherry Valley Road, housewife: I think it is morally sound and politically wise. We got them into this situation and I feel we can't abandon them.

Robert Cloutworthy, 88 College Road, swimming coach, Princeton University: I agree with the first part. I feel, first of all, that this is to our advantage as far as propaganda is concerned. I think this is analogous to Eichmann offering Jews for trucks. This shows we put human beings above material values, to Castro's disadvantage.

Mrs. Lois Ward, 21 Harris Road, secretary: The way I feel about it—anything to get them released. And although I don't think it's wise, I hope it will help better relations between us and Cuba.

Herbert Schneiderman, Graduate College, English student: I think it is morally sound and politically wise because I think it puts the whole thing in its not quite realistic light.

Rev. Morlon V. Sand, Tenthune Road, minister: I think it is both morally sound and politically wise. It is morally sound because it is based, essentially, on a high valuation of persons. It is politically wise because it is open affirmation that both the American people and American government are sympathetic with persons in need in a somewhat costing manner.

APARTMENTS TABLED
By West Windsor's zoning board of West Windsor Township tabled for further study last week the request by George Sands and Associates for a special use permit to build a 100-unit apartment complex on Mill Road.

The board also refused to grant Sands and Associates a variance to erect a sign at the corner of Hightstown and Clarksville Roads. The size of the sign and the reasons for the board's rejection were not disclosed; however, residents of the area appeared before the board to object to its construction on that corner.

William C. Baggett, attorney for Mr. Sands, presented plans for two-story brick Colonial style apartments which would be designed with a center entrance and two apartments on each side. James McGray is the architect. The structures were given a $750,000 valuation by the Sands firm.

Some 40 persons were present at the Town Hall, Dutch Neck, to hear the presentation and, in many cases, to their philosophy department has a new translation of "Faust" that will keep you occupied this summer, and Paul Traylor, of the department of religion, has "War and the Christian Conscience" and "Christian Ethics and the Situation." Carlos Baker has explored the writings of Hemingway's critics, and presents an anthology of his findings. George Steiner, who used to be at the Institute for Advanced Study, has "The Death of Tragedy."

Well, there you are. Other people, of course, do set down their thoughts from time to time, even if they've never been in Princeton; let's not be provincial. Gladys Schindler has a new novel, not quite published but soon to be, on the life of Rembrandt; Sybil Bedford, who wrote so well about the trial of Dr. Adams, has "The Faces of Justice."

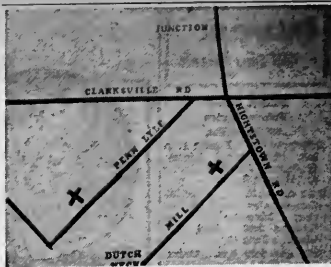

Traveler's Report. We were particularly interested in a new group of paperbacks called the "American Experience Series," a collection of journals and pieces of descriptive writing dating mostly from the 19th century. "Recollections of a Jersey Prison Ship" is one, "Lucy Larcom: A New England Girlhood" is another.

There's an edition of Major Robert Rogers' Journals to leave the 18th century for a moment and William A. Hinds' "American Community." The books represent an off-beat contribution to Americana that will find illuminating and entertaining.

APARTMENTS HERE? Two developers have submitted plans to West Windsor officials for multiple housing projects in the township. Stanley Fielder has proposed a 48-unit apartment on six acres on Penn-Lyle Road, as shown by the "X", left. George Sands would like to build a 100-unit apartment on 10.6 acres on Mill Road, as indicated by the right-hand "X". Story this page. (Staff map) record their objections with the zoning board.

Questions of taxes, school facilities, water pressure, fire protection and the use which Sands Associates would make of the remaining land around the apartments were raised by West Windsor residents.

The spokesmen for the real estate firm said that, of the 40 apartments which would have two bedrooms, there would be .0438 children per apartment. He calculated the cost - per - year of educating a child in West Windsor at $480, and said the firm's calculations showed that the township would have $13,000 profit in taxes from the new development. When asked about such services as fire protection, water, garbage disposal and so on, the spokesman said that the township approximately the $13,000 tax profit, so that the municipality would probably break even if the development were built.

Mr. Baggett said, in response to questioning, that there would be "plenty" of fire hydrants for the apartment buildings. He said that

"The Ostrich Has Two Eggs

French comedy dealing with colleagues, themes like homo-

Frenay is a blustering mid-

The boys are Roger, who is be-

STRANGE SETTING
 For Yale Baseball Game.
 For the first time in more than 80 years, the Yale-Princeton baseball game on Saturday will be played in a location other than University Field.
 The new setting, just east of Palmer Stadium, has actually been in use for two seasons, first for the freshman and now for the varsity. But it is still so recent a part of the University's athletic plant that it has no official name.

The diamond which came into being during the 1950's after the field at William and Olden had been in use since 1878, has given way to academic progress. The Engineering Quadrangle is being built on land where so many dramatic baseball games (and earlier, football games and track meets) were staged.

Temporary bleachers have been erected on ground overlooking the sunken diamond, which is itself an excellent place to play ball. There will not be nearly as many as there were at University Field, but visibility from the stands above the new area is extremely good. In years to come, more permanent stands will be provided, but not in the number that University Field offered.

In the halcyon days of college baseball, crowds of 2-3000 were normal, and the seating capacity of 8000 was often exceeded by a Yale-Princeton crowd.
 That era has passed, however, and even when the Tigers are well up in the Eastern League race, a few hundred speculators at most will show up for Saturday afternoon action.

Rubber game at stake. The upcoming meeting between the two traditional rivals will determine the winner of the 1961 series. In games played this spring at New Haven, Princeton won the first, 3-1, but lost the second, 4-3, in 11 innings.
 How the Tigers managed to bring out 11 hits and steal eight bases while scoring only three times last Saturday is a question they prefer not to answer. Time and again, they had the outcome apparently wrapped up, but an eventual total of 15 men left on bases and shoddy fielding spelled defeat.

Wally Phillips, who had heatened the Ells in May, again pitched well enough to win. The Tigers got him a 2-0 lead in the first two innings, but the Blue drew even by the fifth.

RETIRED: The end of 30 years' association with track field Niles, Princeton High will come this month for Win-Stedon coach.

and eventually took the decision in the last of the 119.
 The deciding run was scored without the benefit of a base hit. An error put Bill Polinsky aboard. He stole second, went to third on a sacrifice and came home on a grounder to short, his good speed helping him beat the throw to the plate.

Phillips will pitch again this Saturday as the Tigers seek to continue the domination they have shown over the Blue in a majority of commencement games during the postwar era. They won the last game at University Field, coming from behind to trim Yale, 7-3, with Phillips the victor in relief.

Two mid-week games were on the Princeton schedule as the season drew to a close.
 Lafayette on Tuesday and Rider College on Wednesday preceded the contest with Yale.

WIN NILES RETIRES
 Was PHS Track Coach. Winfield Niles, head track coach at Princeton High School, will retire this month, bringing to an end 21 years of coaching the sport at that institution.
 He has been head track coach at PHS for the past seven years.
 Niles said that he may continue as coach of the school's cross country team. He has coached this sport for 16 years, since he started it at PHS in 1946.

Niles' decision to retire as head coach will bring to an end 30 years of association with the sport. That began as a member of the high school track team in Rumford, Maine, his home town. At the University of Maine in Orono, he ran the quarter mile and 220.

 The "highlight of the season" for him came just last week when his Little Tigers scored an upset to capture the Central Jersey Championship. Niles, who was

PHS' FLETCHER SCORES

In State Track Meet, Lanning, Fletcher, co-captain of the Princeton High School track team, placed second in the high hurdle and third in the low hurdles of the State Track Meet held Saturday at Rutgers' University stadium. No other PHS entry was able to place in the meet.

In earning all of Princeton High's seven points, Fletcher's time in the high hurdles was 13.1 and 20.9 in the low. Last spring in the State finals, Fletcher finished second in the 180-yard low hurdles.

PHS NINE ENDS SEASON

By Ending Wins. The Princeton High School baseball team, coached by Harry Zell, ended the 1961 season with victories over Hamilton High School and Trenton Catholic. The two triumphs ended the Little Tigers to close with a 6-10 record.

Six out of 16 is a sharp reversal of last year's performance when the Blue and White compiled a 17-1 mark. Three of those victories were post-season tournament contests which carried PHS to the Central Jersey Group III championship.

Most sorely missed this year was a pitcher of Jack Lackey's stature. Over a three year span, Jack won 17 of 20 games, eight as a senior. In the three tournament games, the PHS played last year, Jack allowed but one hit in the first, struck out 11 in the second, and 16 in the championship game to win all three. This year's performance added substance to Coach Zell's oft-repeated statement that in high school baseball, pitching makes up 80 percent of a ball team.

In their finale, the Little Tigers had to wait 11 innings before gaining an upset 4-2 win over Trenton Catholic. Catholic had entered the game with a fine 11-4 record and had previously edged PHS, 3-2 in Princeton's opener.

Although outlit, 8-4 the victors made capital of seven TC misplays. Two errors and a passed ball led to Trenton's downfall. PHS shortstop Hank Schmidt singled in the 11th frame and raced to third when the centerfielder misplayed the drive. Ted Sear, the next batter, fanned, but TC catcher Joe Plummer let the ball get away.

Schmidt tried to score on the play but Plummer retrieved the ball and fired it to Ed Petranto covering at the plate in time to catch Schmidt but Petranto dropped the ball.

Shrewsbury Rowing Club. In the varsity race, the Hunoesmen negotiated the 11-mile-long course in 8:25.5, edging Belleville by nearly seven seconds. The Hun Jovee crew covered the same distance in 4:49.1, with Belleville again second.

Princeton tallied single runs on the third on a hit batter, a sacrifice and an error, and in the fourth on two more errors and a stolen base. Rogers was the winning pitcher, his fourth victory. He has lost seven.

Last Monday, PHS again lost for an earlier one-run defeat when it outslugged Hamilton, 8-2. Hamilton has a hand of the Blue and White its second loss of the season, edging it 2-1 on April 20.

Princeton High scored a pair of runs in the fourth inning on four walks and two passed balls. It added another brace of runs in the fifth on singles by Dave Lanning, Alan Wood and a two-run double by Archie Freeman. Three more in the seventh put the game out of Hamilton's reach.

Is Life Insurance a good investment?

It depends on what you want from an investment. But if you are like most men, you will need an investment that will do these 4 things—create an immediate estate for your family in the event of your early death, give you an adequate income if you are disabled, provide a lifetime source of retirement income, plus liquid funds for emergencies. From this standpoint Life Insurance ranks second to none. A Permanent Life Insurance contract with a Disability Income benefit, is the only investment that can guarantee this combination. Even in periods of severe economic stress Life Insurance has a unique record of dependability.

For more information on what an investment in Life Insurance can do for you, just call the Men from Manufacturers. You'll find he has an interesting story to tell
